No internet when you land?

Your backup eSIM is already on your phone. Switch in one minute, no Wi-Fi needed.

iPhone

1. Open Settings > Cellular (or Mobile Data), tap “Roamuna backup”, then “Turn On This Line”. If your iPhone asks which line to turn off, choose “Roamuna”.
2. Go back, tap “Cellular Data” and choose “Roamuna backup”.
3. In “Roamuna backup”, turn on Data Roaming.

That's it: you're online. We see the switch and then take care of your main eSIM.

Before you leave

- Install both eSIMs over Wi-Fi: “Roamuna” and “Roamuna backup”.
- Don't delete “Roamuna backup”: it can stay turned off until the day you need it.
- Turn off data roaming on your usual line, to avoid charges.
- Save this guide to your photos: you can read it offline.

Still nothing?

Connect to Wi-Fi (airport, hotel) and write to us on roamuna.com or at hello@roamuna.com. If we can't fix it, you get your money back.

Menu names may vary with your phone model and software version.
